LORDSHIP READY FOR BIG OPENING ON JULY FOURTH

Bathing Houses Now Doing Business—Many New Attractions.

Speaking of "Preparedness," there is no amusement resort in this part of the country better prepared to entertain the public than Lordship.

With the extra battery of bath houses in readiness there are over 300 individual houses now awaiting public approval. The pavilion has been thoroughly renovated and the beach combed and recombed until it is the finest on the Sound shore. The bath houses are now open daily but the big day, in fact, the formal opening, will be Fourth of July. On the same day, the new dancing pavilion will be completed and thrown open to the public under the direction of Professor Quilty, who needs no introduction to the local people.

Then, too, there is the tent city with its great dining tent 32x88 feet, under the able management of Mr. Bush, who has catered to the wants of Yaleans for many years. Mr. Bush states that he is thoroughly prepared to handle record crowds on the Fourth, in fact he's ready now. In the big dining tent anything from a frankfurter to a lobster may be procured at popular prices. Shore dinners will be a specialty.

Unfortunately the new big pay-as-you-enter cars for the Lordship trolley have not arrived but it is still possible that they will be in operation for Independence Day; the curve and cross-over for the trolley and roller avenues have been received after a series of delays all spring, and the extension at the Shore end is about completed, hence it will not be many days before the big yellow cars with "Lordship" on the side, will thunder along Stratford avenue to the railroad station conveying residents to and from their daily toil for a picket.

All in all, Lordship is Bridgeport's most exclusive and yet most accessible shore resort. One of the rare features of the beach is the fact that even at low tide there is five feet of water at the float, hence the slogan "It's always high tide at Lordship."

During the past 10 days Lordship Beach has been the scene of no less than nine picnics and outings and many more are booked for July and August. The Lordship Company has magnanimously permitted Sunday schools and other organizations to hold their outings free of charge. Family basket parties also are welcomed.

Camp sites may be rented at a nominal figure. Organizations contemplating clamabakes will do well to ring up 2890-3 and talk with Ernest P. Lyon, general manager.

POLICEMEN OBJECT TO BUYING SPECIAL REVOLVER FOR DUTY

Some interesting developments are expected when the board of police commissioners and Supt. J. H. Redgate inspect the members of the department Saturday afternoon as it is currently reported that many of the men have not yet provided themselves with the regulation department revolver and will oppose any act that will tend to make them purchase a special brand of weapon.

The notice of the inspection has been posted at police headquarters and the members of Platoons B and C will be inspected at 1:45 o'clock and Platoons A and D at 4 o'clock. The division into two squads will allow for police protection during the time that the inspection is in progress. The men are supposed to be equipped with the regulation blouses and a special revolver.

Germans Insist British Lost Big Battleships In Jutland Engagement

Berlin, June 29.—It is reported from Copenhagen that in the last few days caps and other objects from warships which participated in the Skagerrak battle have drifted ashore on the Jutland coast. According to this information there have been identified articles from the British battleships Wasp and Marlborough, the British destroyer Nestor, the German battleship Pommern and the German cruiser Wiesbaden.

Loss of the Pommern, Wiesbaden and Nestor has been announced officially. German statements in the Marlborough and Wasp were denied officially by the British who asserted both vessels were safe in port.

HARMONY LODGE HOLDS LAST OF 1916 MEETINGS

Harmony lodge, No. 711, Independent Order B'nai B'rith, held its last meeting of the season, Tuesday night, and a general good time was enjoyed by all present. A smoker and entertainment were the principal features of the meeting. All the routine business was quickly transacted.

The lodge had as its guests the members of the state board of deputies of the order, Joseph Ullman and Jacob Kaplan of New Haven and Charles H. Shapiro and Max Cohen of Bridgeport. Splendid addresses were made by the members of the board on the aims and ideals of the I. O. B. B., and what had been accomplished for Judaism in this country under its efficient leadership. Mr. Ullman stated that Horab Lodge of New Haven was doing its share toward the preparedness idea and assisting in the Mexican situation, as a committee of the lodge is working to organize a volunteer company.

Other guests were the officers and members of Abraham lodge, the other lodge of the order in this city. President Max Cohen and Vice-President Isaac Schine responded for Abraham lodge to the welcoming address of President Joseph G. Shapiro of Harmony. All mentioned the general good feeling existing between the lodges.

After the meeting the members enjoyed a varied musical program of both vocal and instrumental talent. The singing of Joseph Wiener was especially enjoyed as he was in excellent voice.

LARRY DOYLE'S GREAT START

"LARRYING LARRY" Doyle, the smashing, crashing, dashing second baseman of the Giants begins his tenth year with that well known ball club today, as it was on June 23, 1907, that he was sold to McGraw by the Springfield, Ill., club of the Three-I League. Larry is a native of the South and will be thirty years old next month. He was a coal miner in his youthful days, but at eighteen he landed a job with the Mattoon, Ill., club and in 1907 he was hired by Springfield. The owner was the son of the Three-I circuit and he hadn't been wearing the livery of the Illinois capital many weeks when the manager of the club began to receive bids from the big league teams. There was quite a bit of competition for Larry's services, and the Springfield management boosted the market quotations on ball-playing coal miners to $4,500 before the future captain of the Giants was knocked down to the New York club.

Doyle joined the Giants immediately and McGraw assigned him to second base. In the minors Larry had never always played third and at first he wasn't remarkably proficient at second, while the unaccustomed crowds and the fact that he was on trial for his big league life made him nervous and anxious. As a result many of the "experts" panned him and asserted that he wouldn't do. McGraw held a different idea; however, and Larry was back in the line-up when the 1908 season opened. In the subsequent activities Larry proved that McGraw had the right hunch, for he fielded like a demon, ranking third in the league, and batted .308. Since then his batting mark has ranged from .260 in 1914 to .330 in 1912. Last year, with an average of .320, Larry was the premier batsman of the National League, and this year he has been wallowing the pill with the best of them. Doyle is the first member of the Giants to win the batting honors of the league in twenty years. It is true that he won the honor by the smallest average in the history of the game.

Larrying Larry has the shoulders of a heavyweight pugilist and when he lands on the pellet, which is frequent, the said sphere is due to go on a long journey. When McGraw took charge of Larry's fortunes nine years ago the minor had little knowledge of batting tactics, but he had a quick eye and great power, and it didn't take a great deal of coaching to develop a batting style that gets results. There are few if any men in baseball who can smash the ball harder than Doyle. The pitchers have never been able to get his goat, and he stands right up to the plate and looks 'em over with an eagle eye. The fear of getting beamed has ruined many promising young batters, but Larry doesn't know what that fear means. There are times when Larry appears to swing wildly, and the fans hop on him and accuse him of myopia and strasmas. As a matter of fact, however, Doyle is one of the coolest batters and most patient waiters in the business. When one of his awful slams misses it makes him look foolish, but when he connects it is the twirler who looks foolish. He may miss quite a few wide curves, but almost anything else, low or high, inside or outside, looks good to him. He has a tendency to pull off his hits in clusters, and he got four or more hits in more games last year than any other player in the league.

ANNIVERSARIES OF RING BATTLES

1898—Tom Sharkey knocked out Gus Ruhlin in 1st round at Coney Island. This was one of the briefest bouts ever fought between top-notch heavyweights, and was the first of the three memorable battles between the Irish sailor and the Akron giant. Sharkey's speedy victory made Gus pretty peevish and he thirsted for revenge upon the rugged, hard-hitting Hibernian sailorman. His chance came just two years later, when on a June day in 1900 the two gladiators again faced each other in a ring pitched at Coney Island. This time Gus gave Tom as good as he sent and a little bit more and at the end of 15 rounds of hard slugging the referee raised Ruhlin's hand in token of victory. This time it was Tom's turn to be peevish, and he was eager for another whack at Gus. It was after another interval of just two years, on a June day in 1902, that the third session was staged. Gus and Tom had crossed the pond for this meeting, and the bout was pulled off in London. The English fans got a run for their money, but in the 11th chapter Sharkey had enough and Ruhlin was declared the victor.

STRATFORDITES LOSE IN FIGHT UPON CONN. CO.

Double Tracking of East Broadway Soon To Be Accomplished.

(Special to The Farmer.)

Stratford, June 29.—Despite several years of long and strenuous opposition by the residents of East Broadway, that thoroughfare will be double tracked from Main street to Blakeman place. Work was received yesterday by the selectmen from the State Highway department stating that they have already granted the Connecticut Co. the privilege of laying double tracks on that street. The Connecticut Co. will also lay a cross-over on Main street in front of the Congregational church.

The expense of laying the double tracks will be entirely paid by the Connecticut Co. The width of the thoroughfare between curbs on East Broadway is to be 34 feet when the double tracks are completed. This entire area will be paved with a concrete pavement. All expenses incident to the construction of paving, setting back and rebuilding of curbs on the street and the removal of trees will also be paid by the company. The work will be under the supervision of the State Highway department.

Charles H. Chapman, superintendent of the Conn. Co. of Bridgeport, said today that work would begin immediately so that traffic on that thoroughfare would be relieved.

The selectmen of the town have posted notice of a public hearing Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the town hall on the following proposed ordinance:

First, no vehicles of any description shall be allowed to stand across the head of any intersecting street or streets within the town.

Second, the selectmen may place parking signs regulating parking of vehicles on the streets within the first taxation district as they deem wise.

Third, every person violating either section of the above mentioned shall be subject to a fine of $25 for each offense.

At the hearing also the petition of the Connecticut Co. to lay a cross-over on Barnum avenue at King Highway will also be considered.

The largest amount of money ever turned into the town treasury from the Stratford town court was during the present month. The sum of $401.50 was given to Town Treasurer Walter S. Curtis. Nineteen cases were tried before Judge Howard M. Curtis. Of these were for frequenting a disorderly house; 5, breach of the peace; 3, reckless driving; one, keeping a house of ill-fame; one, manslaughter; one, theft; and one selling liquor without a license.
